Comments

Youngji has been amazing at explaining the concepts and helping us learn wherever we have mistakes in our understanding. I went to her office hours and she spent a lot of time helping me with my misunderstandings. She also followed up with via email giving me references (to May's theorem) which really enhanced my learning.

Youngji is very good at explaining concepts in mechanism design, and she prepares her classes really well, with recaps at the start of the seminars, which helps to re-orient the students.
